

Hey Neighbor!

We are living in some strange times. First of all, how is toilet paper a scarce resource? It can be hard to get to the store, tend to all your responsibilities, and stay connected. Not to worry though, you're not in this alone. I know physical distancing can feel isolating and lonely, but I'm here for you. I will run errands for you, chat on the phone when you need to talk, or even brave the grocery store for you. We need to take care of each other in these uncertain times.

Thanks to Crossroads for this great idea!

My name is:

Call or text me at:

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month! For creative ideas on how to spend this time with your family, check out www.pcaky.org.

Hey Neighbor!

We are living in some strange times. First of all, how is toilet paper a scarce resource? It can be hard to get to the store, tend to all your responsibilities, and stay connected. Not to worry though, you're not in this alone. I know physical distancing can feel isolating and lonely, but I'm here for you. I will run errands for you, chat on the phone when you need to talk, or even brave the grocery store for you. We need to take care of each other in these uncertain times.

Thanks to Crossroads for this great idea!

My name is:

Call or text me at:

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month! For creative ideas on how to spend this time with your family, check out www.pcaky.org.

Hey Neighbor!

We are living in some strange times. First of all, how is toilet paper a scarce resource? It can be hard to get to the store, tend to all your responsibilities, and stay connected. Not to worry though, you're not in this alone. I know physical distancing can feel isolating and lonely, but I'm here for you. I will run errands for you, chat on the phone when you need to talk, or even brave the grocery store for you. We need to take care of each other in these uncertain times.

Thanks to Crossroads for this great idea!

My name is:

Call or text me at:

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month! For creative ideas on how to spend this time with your family, check out www.pcaky.org.

Hey Neighbor!

We are living in some strange times. First of all, how is toilet paper a scarce resource? It can be hard to get to the store, tend to all your responsibilities, and stay connected. Not to worry though, you're not in this alone. I know physical distancing can feel isolating and lonely, but I'm here for you. I will run errands for you, chat on the phone when you need to talk, or even brave the grocery store for you. We need to take care of each other in these uncertain times.

Thanks to Crossroads for this great idea!

My name is:

Call or text me at:

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month! For creative ideas on how to spend this time with your family, check out www.pcaky.org.

